Property Profile

Address: Tallis Close, Newport, NP19

Type: Three-bedroom semi-detached house

Tenure: Freehold - confirmed directly with the agent.

Marketing status: Off-market - confirmed directly with the agent. Not found listed on Rightmove or Zoopla on independent search.

EPC Rating: C | Council Tax Band: B

Approx. floor area: 840 sq ft

Kitchen replaced end of 2025 (grey shaker-style units, block worktop, part-tiled) - confirmed from listing photos reviewed directly. Bathroom is a dated three-piece suite in serviceable condition, not recently refurbished. Rear/side extension provides additional kitchen-diner and utility space. The listing describes a large front and rear garden; photos reviewed directly confirm the plot is a good size but currently significantly overgrown - a maintenance item for the incoming landlord to address with the tenant post-completion, not a structural defect. No signs of damp, fire damage or structural movement were visible in the photos reviewed; this has not been confirmed by a professional survey.

Tenant & Income Profile

Tenant currently in situ paying GBP 173 pw (approx. GBP 749 pcm / GBP 8,996 pa). A rent increase to GBP 1,150 pcm has been served to the tenant, effective from September 2026. This has been directly confirmed by the managing agent, who lets and manages the tenancy in-house and has first-hand knowledge of the tenancy file. This is a stronger basis than a third-party sales agent's unverified claim, but the formal rent increase notice itself has not yet been independently sighted in documentary form. Sight of the tenancy agreement, the Section 13 (or equivalent) rent increase notice, rent statement/bank records, gas safety certificate, EICR and deposit protection reference is recommended before this is relied upon as fact for exchange purposes.

Real Yield vs. Agent's Yield Claim

The agent's headline gross yield (8.36% at asking price) is calculated using the incoming target rent of GBP 1,150 pcm, not the rent currently being paid. On the rent actually being collected today (GBP 749 pcm), the real current gross yield is 5.45% at asking price and 5.80% at the GBP 155,000 test offer. The GBP 1,150 pcm figure is independently corroborated by third-party rental market data for comparable 3-bedroom houses in the NP19 postcode area, and is further supported by the rent increase already having been served to the tenant - but it is not yet income being received, and should be underwritten on that basis until the increase takes effect in September 2026.

Strategy

Primary strategy: acquire with the existing tenant in place and let the confirmed September 2026 rent increase take effect naturally, moving passing income from GBP 8,996 pa to GBP 13,800 pa without any void period or re-letting cost. No refurbishment is required to let the property in its current form - the kitchen was replaced at the end of 2025. Secondary consideration: budget for garden clearance shortly after completion as a minor, low-cost tidy-up item.

Condition - Tenanted, Minimal Works Required

This is a tenanted, income-producing property. Photos reviewed directly show a lived-in family home: kitchen replaced end of 2025 and in good order; bathroom dated (older-style suite and tiling) but functional, no visible leaks or damage; bedrooms decorated and in normal tenant-occupied condition; living/utility areas serviceable. Garden is heavily overgrown and would benefit from clearance post-completion. No indications of damp, fire damage or structural defects were visible in the photos supplied - this is a visual review only, not a survey finding. An independent RICS Level 2 Homebuyer Report is recommended prior to exchange to confirm structural condition, particularly given the property's age and the rear/side extension.

Illustrative Acquisition Costs - At Test Offer Price (GBP 155,000)

Wales uses Land Transaction Tax (LTT), not Stamp Duty. As an additional/buy-to-let property, higher residential LTT rates apply. At GBP 155,000 the whole price falls within the first higher-rate band (5% up to GBP 180,000, effective from 11 December 2024), giving an estimated LTT of GBP 7,750. Legal and survey costs below are typical market estimates, not quotes - confirm actual figures with a solicitor and surveyor before relying on them.

Comparable Evidence - Tallis Close & NP19 Market Context

HM Land Registry sold-price data (via Rightmove) for every recorded transaction on Tallis Close was reviewed (11 addresses, full detail on page 5). The most relevant finding: the highest price ever achieved on this street, for any property type, is GBP 170,000 (19 Tallis Close, 3-bed terraced, Nov 2023) - no sale has reached the agent's stated CMV of GBP 180,000. Only two semi-detached sales exist on the street (matching the subject property's type), both at GBP 85,000, but both are stale (2013 and 2015) and pre-date most of the street's subsequent price growth.

Basis for Test Offer

With no recent semi-detached sale to anchor against, the most defensible approach is to treat the street's 3-bed terraced price trend as a time-adjusted proxy: GBP 130,000 (Sep 2018) to GBP 135,000 (Feb 2021) to GBP 137,000 (May 2021) to GBP 139,950 (Apr 2022) to GBP 170,000 (Nov 2023) - a clear upward trajectory, but topping out at GBP 170,000 with nothing verified above it. The GBP 155,000 test offer sits below both the GBP 165,000 asking price and this GBP 170,000 ceiling, and is being used to gauge the vendor's flexibility before committing further time to the deal. It has not been accepted and remains subject to negotiation and contract. The agent's GBP 180,000 CMV is not supported by any sold evidence found on this street and should be treated as an unverified asking-side assertion. The rationale for pursuing this deal despite a modest current yield is the confirmed, already-served rent increase to GBP 1,150 pcm from September 2026, which lifts the yield materially without requiring a tenant changeover, refurbishment, or void period.
