Overview

Off-market, tenanted buy-to-let opportunity at 11 Tallis Close, Newport (NP19 9LW) - a three-bedroom semi-detached freehold house with a tenant already in situ, giving an immediate income stream from completion with no void period. EPC rating C, Council Tax Band B, approx. 840 sq ft. The kitchen was replaced at the end of 2025. The agent markets this as a 'turnkey tenanted investment' - the property does not require refurbishment to re-let, though the bathroom and some of the decor/flooring are dated rather than recently refreshed (see Condition, page 2), and the garden requires clearance (page 7). Listed at £165,000; an offer of approximately £155,000 is currently being tested with the vendor's agent and has not been accepted. A rent increase to £1,150 pcm has already been served to the tenant, effective September 2026, and has been directly confirmed by the managing agent (see Tenant & Income Profile, page 2, for verification status).

Headline Numbers - Current Rent vs. Confirmed Rent Increase

- Current passing rent: £173 pw / approx. £749 pcm / £8,996 pa
- Confirmed rent increase (served, effective Sept 2026): £1,150 pcm / £13,800 pa
- Real gross yield on CURRENT passing rent at asking price (£165,000): 5.45%
- Real gross yield on CURRENT passing rent at test offer (£155,000): 5.80%
- Gross yield on CONFIRMED increased rent at test offer (£155,000): 8.90%
- The agent's headline yield figure (8.36% at asking) is calculated on the incoming target rent, not the rent currently being paid - see page 2 for the real vs. agent's yield breakdown.
- Illustrative only - see disclaimer on page 11

Property Profile

Address:	11 Tallis Close, Newport, NP19 9LW View on Google Maps / Street View →
Type:	Three-bedroom semi-detached house
Tenure:	Freehold - confirmed directly with the agent.
Marketing status:	Off-market - confirmed directly with the agent. Not found listed on Rightmove or Zoopla on independent search.
EPC Rating:	C (Certificate 2180-9564-9160-3007-4095, valid until 13 Apr 2036 - verified on the government EPC register)
Approx. floor area:	840 sq ft per the agent; EPC register states 79 sq m (850 sq ft); floorplan's own room-by-room total is 824 sq ft - see Floorplan, page 6.

Kitchen replaced end of 2025 (grey shaker-style units, block worktop, part-tiled) - confirmed from listing photos reviewed directly. Bathroom is a dated three-piece suite in serviceable condition, not recently refurbished. Decor elsewhere is mixed: the lounge and both bedrooms have been redecorated with feature wallpaper and are well presented, while carpets and paintwork in other areas are plain and dated rather than recently refreshed - a light cosmetic refresh (decoration/flooring) may be worth budgeting for at some point, though it is not required to re-let the property. Layout per the agent's floorplan (see page 6): ground floor comprises a single combined lounge/diner (19'9" x 11'5" max), a separate kitchen, and a separate utility room; first floor has three bedrooms and a shower room. The listing describes a large front and rear garden; photos reviewed directly confirm the plot is a good size but currently significantly overgrown - a maintenance item for the incoming landlord to address with the tenant post-completion, not a structural defect. No signs of damp, fire damage or structural movement were visible in the photos reviewed; this has not been confirmed by a professional survey.

Tenant & Income Profile

Tenant currently in situ paying £173 pw (approx. £749 pcm / £8,996 pa). A rent increase to £1,150 pcm has been served to the tenant, effective from September 2026. This has been directly confirmed by the managing agent, who lets and manages the tenancy in-house and has first-hand knowledge of the tenancy file. This is a stronger basis than a third-party sales agent's unverified claim, but the formal rent increase notice itself has not yet been independently sighted in documentary form. Sight of the tenancy agreement, the Section 13 (or equivalent) rent increase notice, rent statement/bank records, gas safety certificate, EICR and deposit protection reference is recommended before this is relied upon as fact for exchange purposes.

Real Yield vs. Agent's Yield Claim

The agent's headline gross yield (8.36% at asking price) is calculated using the incoming target rent of £1,150 pcm, not the rent currently being paid. On the rent actually being collected today (£749 pcm), the real current gross yield is 5.45% at asking price and 5.80% at the £155,000 test offer. The £1,150 pcm figure is broadly consistent with current 3-bedroom rental asking prices in the NP19 postcode area, though it sits at the upper end of that range rather than the middle - see the rental comparable evidence on page 9. It is further supported by the rent increase already having been served to the tenant - but it is not yet income being received, and should be underwritten on that basis until the increase takes effect in September 2026.

Strategy

Primary strategy: acquire with the existing tenant in place and let the confirmed September 2026 rent increase take effect naturally, moving passing income from £8,996 pa to £13,800 pa without any void period or re-letting cost. No refurbishment is required to let the property in its current form - the kitchen was replaced at the end of 2025. Secondary considerations: budget for garden clearance shortly after completion as a minor, low-cost tidy-up item, and consider a light cosmetic refresh (decoration/flooring in the rooms not already redecorated) at a natural break in the tenancy - discretionary, not required to re-let now.

Photos are taken from the property's marketing listing and reviewed by VM Property Sourcing Ltd. Agent's Floorplan (as supplied with the listing)

Room Dimensions (transcribed from the floorplan above)

Ground Floor - 38.9 sq.m. (419 sq ft) approx.
Kitchen	3.34m x 2.98m (10'11" x 9'9")
Lounge/Diner	6.01m x 3.49m (19'9" x 11'5") Max
Utility Room	2.93m x 1.93m (9'7" x 6'4")
1st Floor - 37.6 sq.m. (405 sq ft) approx.
Bedroom	4.10m x 2.72m (13'5" x 8'11") Max
Bedroom	3.53m x 3.15m (11'7" x 10'4")
Bedroom	3.28m x 1.92m (10'9" x 6'4")
Shower Room	2.24m x 1.66m (7'4" x 5'5")

Three slightly different floor area figures exist for this property: 840 sq ft (agent's listing figure), 850 sq ft / 79 sq m (official EPC register, certificate 2180-9564-9160-3007-4095), and 824 sq ft (this floorplan's own room-by-room total, 419 + 405). All three are within a few percent of each other - likely rounding or measurement-method differences - and should be treated as approximate. There is no extension shown on this floorplan; the property is a single rectangular footprint comprising porch, kitchen, one combined lounge/diner, and a utility room on the ground floor.

EPC Certificate - Independently Verifiable

Address: 11 Tallis Close, Newport, NP19 9LW | Rating: C | Total floor area: 79 sq m | Property type: Semi-detached house | Certificate number: 2180-9564-9160-3007-4095 | Valid until: 13 April 2036. This certificate can be independently checked by searching the certificate number or address at find-energy-certificate.service.gov.uk.

Condition - Tenanted, Minimal Works Required

This is a tenanted, income-producing property. Photos reviewed directly show a lived-in family home: kitchen replaced end of 2025 and in good order; bathroom dated (older-style suite and tiling) but functional, no visible leaks or damage; the lounge and both bedrooms have been redecorated with feature wallpaper and are well presented, while carpets and paintwork in other rooms are plain and dated rather than recently refreshed - a light cosmetic refresh is optional, not required to re-let. Garden is heavily overgrown and would benefit from clearance post-completion. A small area of cracked/patched render is visible to the rear of the property near a downpipe in the photos supplied. No indications of damp, fire damage or other structural defects were visible in the photos supplied - this is a visual review only, not a survey finding. An independent RICS Level 2 Homebuyer Report is recommended prior to exchange to confirm structural condition, particularly given the property's age and the render observation above.

Illustrative Cashflow - At Test Offer Price (£155,000)

Annual rental income (current passing rent, £749 pcm)	£8,996
Real gross yield on test offer (current passing rent)	5.80%
Annual rental income (confirmed increase, £1,150 pcm, from Sept 2026)	£13,800
Gross yield on test offer at confirmed increased rent	8.90%

Illustrative Acquisition Costs - At Test Offer Price (£155,000)

Wales uses Land Transaction Tax (LTT), not Stamp Duty. As an additional/buy-to-let property, higher residential LTT rates apply. At £155,000 the whole price falls within the first higher-rate band (5% up to £180,000, effective from 11 December 2024), giving an estimated LTT of £7,750. Legal and survey costs below are typical market estimates, not quotes - confirm actual figures with a solicitor and surveyor before relying on them.

Purchase price (test offer)	£155,000
Land Transaction Tax (higher residential rate, est.)	£7,750
Legal fees (est.)	£1,200
Survey - RICS Level 2 (est.)	£550
Estimated total acquisition cost	£164,500
Real gross yield on estimated total acquisition cost (current rent)	5.47%

Comparable Evidence - Tallis Close & NP19 Market Context

HM Land Registry sold-price data (via Rightmove) for every recorded transaction on Tallis Close was reviewed (13 addresses, full detail on page 10). The most relevant finding: the highest price ever achieved on this street, for any property type, is £170,000 (19 Tallis Close, 3-bed terraced, Nov 2023) - no sale has reached the agent's stated Current Market Value (CMV) of £180,000. Three semi-detached sales exist on the street (matching the subject property's type): £85,000 (2015), £85,000 (2013) and £82,000 (2005) - all stale and pre-dating most of the street's subsequent price growth.

Basis for Test Offer

With no recent semi-detached sale to anchor against, the most defensible approach is to treat the street's 3-bed terraced price trend as a time-adjusted proxy: £130,000 (Sep 2018) to £135,000 (Feb 2021) to £137,000 (May 2021) to £139,950 (Apr 2022) to £170,000 (Nov 2023) - a clear upward trajectory, but topping out at £170,000 with nothing verified above it. The £155,000 test offer sits below both the £165,000 asking price and this £170,000 ceiling, and is being used to gauge the vendor's flexibility before committing further time to the deal. It has not been accepted and remains subject to negotiation and contract. The agent's £180,000 CMV is not supported by any sold evidence found on this street and should be treated as an unverified asking-side assertion. The rationale for pursuing this deal despite a modest current yield is the confirmed, already-served rent increase to £1,150 pcm from September 2026, which lifts the yield materially without requiring a tenant changeover, refurbishment, or void period.

Exit Strategy

No specific exit is being underwritten at this stage; this is illustrative only, not a valuation or forecast. Two realistic routes exist at the point of sale: selling with the tenant in situ to another investor (typically the faster route, but the buyer pool is limited to cash or BTL-mortgage buyers, usually at a discount to vacant-possession value), or serving notice and selling with vacant possession to the wider market including owner-occupiers (typically a higher price, but with a marketing/void period and lost rent while the tenancy ends). Semi-detached houses often command a premium over comparable terraced houses in the wider market, but the direct sold-price evidence on Tallis Close itself points the other way: in the two instances where a semi-detached and a terraced sale can be compared in the same or an adjacent year, the semi sold for 89-96.5% of the terraced price (2005/06: £82,000 vs £85,000; 2015: £85,000 vs £95,500). Applying those same ratios to the current £170,000 terraced ceiling (Nov 2023) as a time-adjusted proxy - itself only an illustrative extrapolation from two data points across an 8-18 year gap, not a valuation - implies a semi-detached exit value in the region of £151,000-£164,000, broadly in line with or below the £155,000-£165,000 offer/asking range rather than clearly above it. The only semi-detached sales on record are stale (2005-2015, see page 10); there is no recent transaction to confirm whether this relationship has persisted, reversed, or is no longer representative, so exit value should be treated as genuinely uncertain. A longer hold (multiple years) is a more realistic basis than a short-term resale, both to let the confirmed rent increase embed and because no reliable recent evidence exists to underwrite near-term capital growth for this property type. Selling costs (estate agency fees, EPC/compliance requirements, and Capital Gains Tax, as this would not be a primary residence) are not included in any figures elsewhere in this pack and should be confirmed with a solicitor or accountant ahead of any decision to sell.

Rental Comparable Evidence - NP19 Market Context

Eleven current 3-bedroom rental listings across two Rightmove searches - the full NP19 postcode area, and a tighter 1-mile radius of the subject postcode (both checked 15 July 2026) - are set out below. The three closest type-matches to the subject property (semi-detached, older housing stock) all ask £1,100 pcm. The £1,150 pcm target rent used elsewhere in this pack sits at the top of this observed range rather than comfortably within it - achievable, but should be treated as an ambitious rather than conservative assumption. Two further 3-bed listings within the 1-mile radius (£1,250 and £1,550 pcm) were deliberately excluded: both are in the Glan Llyn/Llanwern new-build estate, a materially different (newer, higher-spec) housing stock to Tallis Close, and including them would overstate the comparable range rather than reflect it accurately.

Colour key: GREEN = primary comparable (3-bed terraced, sold 2018 or later - closest like-for-like on recency). AMBER = type-matched (semi-detached, same as subject property) but stale (2005/2013/2015). GREY = weaker comparability (wrong bed count, unconfirmed bed count, or sale predates 2010). Note: 32 Tallis Close has one further historical sale pre-dating 2002 shown on Rightmove that could not be retrieved for this pack - an even older sale is unlikely to change the analysis either way.
